« Into the nature » at the Green Film Festival

On Thursday 10 April, the FDDM and its director Eric Nanchen will be guests at the Green Film Festival. On this occasion, we will be presenting the short film « Votre Cercle de Vie » in the presence of its director Yannick Barillon. The film reveals the day-to-day activities of 14-year-old Laurent on the family farm in Château-d'Oex. The mission of Laurent and his family is to show how it is possible, through farming and contact with animals, to reconnect with nature.

The short film is part of the « Into the Nature » initiative, a special project of the SMArt Programme that ties in with the programme's aim of raising awareness through art. The aim is to appeal particularly to young audiences, raising awareness of the importance of nature and its essential role for humanity. Four videos have been produced, featuring inspiring portraits and initiatives in Switzerland and abroad.

« Your Circle of Life » will be followed by the excellent film « Naïs au pays des loups », not to be missed!
